CHAP. 2.

Y Lord, your Father loued me. And you my Lord have proved me, And both your loues have moved me, To write as I have done: Since God hath hence your father,

Such flowers as I gather, I dedicate now rather,

To you my Lord his fonne. Your father was my founder. Till death became his wounder, No subject ever sounder,

Whom Prince aduancement gaue:

As God did here defend him, Andhonour here did send him, So now I will commend him,

As long as life I haue. His neighbours then did bleffe him. His servants now doe misse him, The poore wouldly gladly kisse him, Aliue againe to be. But God hath wrought his pleasure, And bleft him out of measure, With heaven and earthly treasure, So good a God is he.

His counsell had I vsed,
And Ceres art refused,
I need not thus have mused.
Nor droope as now I doe:
But I must play the Farmer,
And yet no whit the warmer,

Although I had his armour, And other comfort too.

Actops fables The Fox doth make me mind him,
Whose glory so did blind him,
Till taile cut off behind him,

No feare could him content: Euen fo must I be prouing, Such glory I had in louing, Of things to plough behouing,

That makes now repent.

Loiterers I kept fo meany,

Both Philip, Hob, and Cheany,

That, that way nothing geany,

Wasthought to make me thriue: Like Ingursh Prince of Numid, My gold away confumed,

With losses so perfumed, Wasneuer none aliue.

Great fines so neere did pare me, Great rent somuch did skare me, Great charge so long did dare me,

That made me at length cry creake:
Much mort of all fuch fleeces,
As oft I loft by peeces,
Among fuch wily geefes,

I liftno longer speake.
Though country health long flaid me,
Yet lease expiring fraid me,

And (18tw fapit) praid me,
To feeke more fleady flay:
New lessons then I noted,
And some of them I quoted,
Least some should thinke I doted.

By bringing noughtaway.
Though Pallas hath denide me,
Her learned pen to guide me,
For that the daily spide me,

With countrey how I flood: Yet Ceres so did bold me, With her good lessons told me, That rudenesse cannot hold me,

From doing countrey good. By practife and ill speeding, These lessons had their breeding, And not by here-say or reading,

As some abroad haue blowne:
Who will not thus beleiue me,
So much the more they grieue me,
Because they grudge to give me,

That is of right mine owne, At first for want of teaching, At first for trisles breaching, At first for ouer-reaching,

And lacke of taking hid: Was cause that tolle so tost me, That practise so much cost me, That rashnesse so much lost me,

The peny for to finger,
From such as there doelinger,

Or for their pleasure lie:
Though Countrey be more painfull,
And not so greedy gainefull,
Yet is it not so vainefull,

In following fansies eye,
I have no labour wanted,
To prune this tree thus planted,
Whose fruitto none is scanted,

In house nor yet in field:
Which fruit, the more ye tast of,
The more to eate ye hast of,
The less this fruit ye wast of,

Such fruit this tree doth yeeld.

My tree or booke thus framed,
With title already named,

An Introduction to the Booke of Husbandry.

CHAP. 4.

Dod husbandmen must moile and toile, to lay to live, by laboured field:
Their wives at home must keepe such coile, as their like acts, may prosit yeeld.

for well they know, as that from bow, or chalke from frow.

and must keepe tutch in all their pay, and must keepe tutch in all their pay, with credit crackt else for to live, or trust to legs and run away. Though fense well kept is one good point, and tilth well done in season due:

yet needing salue in time t'annoint, is all in all, and needfull true:

As for the reft, thus thinke I best, as friend doth ghest, noith hand in hand, to lead thee forth to Ceres campe, there to behold I thousand things, as richly worth as any Bearle, is worthy gold.

Looke nothing but rudenesse in thease.

What other things lookest thou then? Graue sentences many to finde? Such Poets haue twenty and ten, Yea thousands contenting thy mind.

What looke ye, I pray ye shew what? Termes painted with Rhetoricke fine? Good husbandry seeketh not that, Nor is't any meaning of mine.

What lookest thou, speake at the last?
Good lessons for thee and thy wife?
Then keepe them in memory fast,
To helpe as a comfort to life.

What looke ye for more in my Booke?
Points needfull and meet to be knowne?
Then daily be fure to looke,
To faue to be fure thine owne.

Summer.

At the Spring

Aorth-east is too cold, South-east not too warme, Aorth-west is too bold. South-west doth no harme. The Porth is a nover, to grasse of all suits.
The Bast a destroier, to hearbs and all fruits:
The South with his shewers, refresheth the corne,
The west to all slowers, may not be forborne.
The west as a father, all goodnesse doth bring,
The Bast a forbearer, no manner of thing:
The South as warmed, draweth sicknesse too neere,
The Porth as a friend maketh all againe cleere.
With temperate wind, we be blessed of God,
with tempest we sinde, we are beat with his rod:
All power, we know, to remaine in his hand,
how ever wind blow, by sea or by land.

Though winds doe rage, as winds were wood, And cause spring-tides, to raise great soud, And losty ships, seame anker in mud, Bereauing many of life, and of bloud: I bet true it is, as Low chewes cud, And trees at spring, doe yeeld forth bud, Except wind stands, as never it stood:

But hurts it selfe, and noves both old and yong.

A Sonnet vpon the Authors first seuen yeares

c

Scauen times hath Janus tane new yeare by hand,
Seuen times hath blustering Parch, blowen forth his powre
Bo drive out Aprill buds, by sea and land,
For minion Pay, to decke most trim with flowre.
Seaven times hath temperate Mer, like Pageant playd,
And pleasant Actas eke her flowers told:
Seaven times Autumnos heat hath beine delayd,
With Hyems blusterous blass, and bitter cold.
Seaven times the thirtene Pones, have changed hew,
Seaven times the Sun his course hath gone about:
Seaven times cach bird, her ness hath built anew,
Since Arktime you to serve, I chosed out.

Stillyours am I, though thus the time have past,
And trust to be as long as life shall last.

Man minded for to thrive,
What hap may thereby fall,
Must wisely lay to wive:

Here argued find ye shall.

g The Authors Dialogue betweene two Batchelers of mining and thrining, by Affirmation, and Objection. Chap. 56.

Filend where we met this other day, Was heard one make his moane and lay, God Lord how might I thrings Wie heard another answere him, Then make the handsome, trick, and trim, And lay in time to wine. Obiction.

And what of that lay you to mie? Doe you your felfe thinke that to bie, The best way for to thrive? If truth were truely boliced out, As touching thrist I stand in doubt, Il men were best to wive.

Affirmation.

There is no doubt, for prove I can, I have but feldome feene that man, Which could the way to thrive: Untill it was his happy lot, To stay himselfe in some god plot, And wisely then to wine.

Obiection.

And I am of another mind,
For by no reason can I Sud,
How that way I should thrine:
For whereas now I spend a penny,
I should not then be quite with meny,
Through bondage sor to wine.
Assume

Botlo, for now where thou doft frend, Df this or that, to no god end, Which hindreth the to thrive: Such baine expences thou Mould Plane, And daily then lay more to have, As others doe that wive.

Obiection.
Why then doe folks this proverbe put, The blacke ore nece trod on thy fut, Afthat way were to thrive?
Héreout a man may some pick forth, Few fæleth what a peny is worth,

Till such time as they wine.

It may fo chance as thou dof fap,

This lesson therefore beare away,
If therefore thou wilt thrive:
Loke per thou leape, se per thou goe,
It may be for thy profit so,
For the to lay to wive.

Objection,

It is to much we baily here,
To wive anotherine both in a yeare,
As touching now to theire:
I knew not herein what to spie,
But that there both small profit sie,
To fanfie sor to wive.
Affirmation.

Anded the first yeare oft is such,

That fondly some bestoweth much,
A let to them to thrive:

Pet other mo may some be found,

Which getteth many a faire pound,

The same day that they wive.

Obicaion. I grant some gettethmoze that day, Than they can easily beare away, Powneds thenmust they thrine? What gaineth such thinke ye by that,

Alittle burthen you wot what, Through fondnelle for to wine.

Affirmation.
Thou læmest blind as mo have bin,
It is not beautie bringeth in,
The thing to make the thrive:
In woman kind se that ye doe,
Require of her no gift but two,
Telhen as ye mind to wive.
Objection.

But two lay your I pray you than, Shew those as briefly as you can, If that may helpe to thrive:
I weene we must conclude anon, Ofthose lame traine, to want the ton, Eaben as ye chance to wive.

10 2

Affirmation.

Affirmation.

Honefty, and Be those same twaine I say to the, that helpe so much to thriue:

As honesty far passeth gold,
be huswifery in yong and old,
Doe pleasure such as wive.

Obiection.

The honesty indeed I grant, Is one god point the wife should haunt, To make her husband thrine: But now faine would I have you show, How should a man god huswife know,

If once he hap to wine?

A hulwife god betimes will rife, And ozder things in comely wife, Her mind is fet to thrine: Upon her diffatte the will spin, And with her nædle the will win, Assauch ye hap to wine. Obiection,

It is not idle going about,
Bo; all day pricking on a clout,
Can make a man to thrive:
D; if there be no other winning,
But that the wife gets by her spinning,
Small thrift it is to wine.
Afternation.

Some moze than this yet doe the thall, Although thy flocke be very small, Yet will the helpe that thine: Lay thou to save as well as the, And then thou thalt enrist hed be, Willen such thou haple to wive.

Obiection.

If the were mine I tell thá troth, Lo much to trouble her I were loth, For gradines to thrive: Leaft some thoulo talke as is the speech, The and wifes bulbad weares on bacch, line and a sind a

Affirmation.

rathat burts it the what fome do fay, If honestly the take the way,

To helpe the for to thrive.

For honestly will make her prest,

To doe the thing that hall be best,

Affind be the thing that we beling

Obiection.

The one that afth of him time whan,

We one that afth of him time whan,

We ere best to wine to theire? Pot pet (quoth he) if thou be yong, If thou war old then hold the tong,

It is to late to wine.

Affirmation.

Belike he knew some spewish wife, Babich with her bulband made fuch Arife That hindged them to thaine: Wilho then may blame him for that claufe, Though then be fpake as fome bad caufe.

As touching for to wine:
Obication.
Edity then I fix to take a threw,
(As felvoms other there be few) Is not the way to thrine: So harda thing I fpie it is, The god to chule, the threw to mis,

That feareth me to wine.

Affirmation.
She may in some thing seine a shein, Pet fuch a bulwifeas but fete,

To helpe thee for to thrine: This prouerbe loke in mind ye keepe,

As god a threw is as a theeps, For you to take to wive.

Objection.

Baw be fbe Lambe, og be the Cive,

Sine me the there, take thou the threw, Se which of vs thall thrine: If the ve threwith thinke for troth, For all her thrift I would be leath, To match with such to wine.

Euch farewell then, Aleane you off, Such foles as you that loue to scoffe, thall seldome wine to thrine:
Contrary her, as you doe mee,
And then ye shall A warrant yee,
Repent ye if yee wine.
Obiection.

Friendlet vs both give intily place, To wedded man to indge this cale, which best way is to thrive: For both our talke as lemeth plaine, Is but as hapneth in our braine, To will or not to wive.

> Wedded mans judgement, Vpon the former argument.

As Cocke that wants his mate, goes rening all about, Mith crowing sarely and late, to find his louer out. And as pope filly hen, long wanting cocke to guide: Some drops, and thootly then begins to peake afte. Even so it is with man and wife, where government is sound. The want of tone the others life, doth thootly some confound.

Ist iest and in earnest, here argued you find,
That husband and wife together must dwell,
And thereto the indgement of wedded mans mind,
That husbandzy otherwise, speedeth not well:
Of huswifery like as of husbandzy told,
How huswifely huswife, helps bring in the gold.
Thus endeth the Booke of Husbandry.

The points of Huswisery, vnited to the comfort of Husbandry, newly corrected and amplified, with divers good lettons for Housholders to recreate the Reader, as by the Table at the end hereof more plainly may appeare.

Set fortbby THOMAS TYSSER, Gentleman.

To the right Honourable and my especiall good Lady and Mistresse, the Lady Pages.

Dough danger be mickle. and fauour fo fickle, Bet duty doth tickle, my fanfie to write, Corcerning how pretty, Dow fine and how netty, Omb hulwife hould tetty, from morning till night. 2 Pot minding by waiting, To kindle a fpighting, But thew by indighting, as afterward told : Dow husbandzy eafeth, To hulwifery pleafeth, And many purle greafeth, with filner and gold. 3 Foz hulbanday wapeth, Wilhere hufwifery fleepeth, And hardly be crepeth, by ladder to thaift: That wanteth to bold him, Thrifts labber to hold bim, Befoge it be told hun, hæ fals without thift.

4 Leaffmany hould feare me, And others for weare me, Df troth I doe beare me, bpzight as pe fe: Full mindedto loue all, And not to reprone all, But onely to moue all, god bulwifes to be. 5 For if I hould mind fome, Defrand behind fome, And muling to find fome, displease is I mought: Dz if I thould blend them, And lo to offend them, What Aur I thould fend them I Cand in a doubt. 6 Though harmeleffe ye make it, And some do well take it, If others forlake it, what pleasure were that: Rought elle but to paine me, And nothing to gaine me, But make them disdaine me, 3 wet not for what.

Leaft

7 Leaft some make a triall, As clocke by the diall, Some Kand to denyall, some murmur and grudge. Give indipsemay you, Foz indipsemay you, I make you my indge.

8 In time pethall try me, By troth ye thall spie me, according to skill.

Dow ever tree groweth,
The fruit the tree thoweth,
Pour Ladiship knoweth,
my heart and god will.

Though fortune both measure,
And I bee tacke treasure,
Pet if I may pleasure,
your honour with this:
Then will me to mend it,
Drang where lend it,
if ought be amisse.
Your Ladiships servant,
Thomas Tysser.

To the Reader.

NIAw liften good hulwines, what doings are beere fet forth for a day, as it (bould for a peere? Both eaffe to follow, and foone to atchieue. for fuch as by bulwifery, looketh to thime. 2 The forenoone affaires, till Dinner (with fome) then afternoone boings, till appertime come: with breakfast and dinner time, sup and to bed. flands ozderly placed, to quiet thine hed. The meaning is this, for a day that re fee, that monthly and yearely, continued must be: Ind hereby to gather (as proue I intend) that bulwifely matters, have never an end. 4 I have not by heare-fap, noz reading in bookc. let out (peraduenture) that come cannot brooke: Aoz pet of a fpight, to be doing with enie, but fuch as have fcared me, many a penie. If widew both bulmife, and bulband may bee, what cause bath a widdower leffer than thee? Tis needfull that both of them, looke well about, too carelesse within, and too lazy without.

6 Rowtherfoze if ye will consider of this, what losses and crosses, comes daily amis: Then beare with a widdowers pen as ye may, though husband of huswifery, somewhat do say.

The preface to the booke of Huswifery.

The weapon away, of what force is a mane

as lovers doe covet, together to dwell, fo husbandry loveth good huswifery well.

Though husbandry feeme, to bring in the gaines,
yet huswifery labours, seemeth equals in paines.

Some respite to husbands the weather may send,
but huswifes affaires, have never an end.

As true as thy fath, Thus Huswifery faith.

For life time, for a wicke, for a piece,
for life time, for ever, while man dwelleth hiere,
for richer, for power, from Porth to the South,
for honell, for hardhead, for dainty of mouth.
For wed and buwedded, licknelle and health,
for all that well liveth, in god common wealth,
for Citty, for Countrey, for Court, and for cart,
To quiet the head, and to comfort the heart.

The praise of Hulwifery.

A description of huswise and Huswisery.

of huswise both huswiserie, challenge that name, of huswiserie huswise, doth likewise the same.

where husband and husbanday ionacth with these, there wealthinesse gotten, is holden with ease.

When name of a huswise what is it to say e the wise of the house, to the husband a stay:

If huswise doth that, as belongeth to hur, if husband be godly, there needeth no stur.

3 The hulwife is the, that to labour doth fall, the labour of her, I do hulwiferie call: If theift by that Labour, be honefly got,

then is it good hulwiferie, elle is it not.

4 The woman the name of a bulwife doth win

by keeping her house, and of doings therein: And she that with husband will quietly dwell, must thinke on this lesson, and follow it well.

¶ Instructions to Huswifery.

Serue God is the furst, Trueloue is not wurst.

A Daily good leffon, of hulwife indeed, is God to remember, the better to speed.

2. In other good lesson, of hulwifery thought, is hulwife with hulband, to live as they ought.
Wife comely no griefe, Man out-hulwife chiefe.

3 Thoughtricklie to fee to, be gallant to wine, yet comely and wife, is the hulwife to thrine:

4 113 hen hulvand is ablent, let hulwife be chiefe, and looke to their labour, that eateth her beefe. Both out, not allow, Keepe houle hulwife thou.

5 Where hulvand and hulwife, be both out of place, there feruants doe loyter, and reason their case:

of the hulwife lo named (of keeping the houle)
mult tend on her profit, as cat on the Moule.

Seeke home for reft, For home is the best.

7 As hulwines keepe home, and be kirrers about, to weedeth her winnings, the yeare throughout.

8 Though home be but homely, pet hulwife is taught, that home hath no fellow, to fuch as haue ought.

Vicall with skill.

Askewhatyewill.

9 Good blage with knowledge, and quiet withall, make hulwife to fhine, as Sun on the wall.

19 What hufband refufeth, all comely to haue, that

that hath a good hulwife, all willing to faue.
Be ready at need, All things to feed.

The case of good huswifes, thus daily doth stand, what ever shall chance, to be ready at hand.

12 This care hath a hulwife, all day in her head, that all things in leason be hulwifely fed.

By practife goe mule, How houshold to vie.

13 Dame practife is the, that to hulwife doth tell, which way for to governe her family well.

make child to be civill, keepe this as a law, who carelelle doeline, Offence thereby give.

15 Paue enery where, a respect to thy waies, that none of thy life any flander may raise,

16 nohat many do know, though a time it be hid, at length will abroad, when a mischiefe shall bid. No Neighbour reproue, Doe as to haueloue.

17 The love of the neighbour, shall fand thee in feed, the poorer the gladder, to helpe at a need.

18 Ule friendly thy neighboz, elle trust him in this, as he hath thy friendlip, to looke to have his.

Strike nothing vnknowen, Take heed to thine owne.

leaft thine by like malice, be bid to like feaft.

20 What husband prouideth with mony his drudge, the huswife must looke to, which way it doth trudge. A note of Cocke-crowing.

Now, out of the matter, this leften Jadde, concerning Lock-crowing, what profit is had: Experience teacheth, as true as a clocke, how winter-night passeth, by crowing of cocke.

Cocke croweth at midnight times few aboue fix,
with pause to his neighbour, to answer betwirt,
It three a clocke thicker, and then as you know,
like all into Matting, neere day they do crow,

This is my fledfall creed, my faith, and all my truff, God the Fathat in the heavens there is a God, both mighty, mild e iuff. ther.

A God about all Gods, a King about all Kings, The Lord of Lords, thiefe governor of beauth 4 earthly things.

2 Chatpower hath of life, of death, of heaven, and hell, Chat all things made as pleaseth him, so wonderfull to tell: That made the hanging skies, so decet with diverse lights,

Maker of

Of Darkenes made the cherfull dates, and all our reafull nights.

3 That clad the earth with hearbs, with trees, and funday fruits, The earth. with beaks, with birds, both mild e tame, of frage e funday fuits:

That intermirt the fame, with mines like beines of oze, of fluer, gold, of vections flones, and treasures many moze.

4 That iouned broks to dales, to hils fresh water fprings, which rivers from along the meads, to profit many things: That made the hoarie frosts, the flakic snows so trim, The hony delves, the blustrings winds, to serve as pleaseth him.

The Waters frost & Inov.

That made the larging leas, in course to ebbe and floe, That skilfull man with sayling thip, might translit to and fro: And sloved so the same, for mans buthankfull sake, That every nation under heaven, might thereby profit take.

The Seas.

6 That gave to man a loule, with reason how to live, That both to him and all things else, his bleffing daily give: That is not seen eyet seth, how man doth run his race, Whose daily workes both gode bad, are known before his face. The foule of 7 That sendeth thundring claps, like terrors out of hell, That man may know a God there is, that in the beanens do divel: That sendsth threatning plagues, to kepe our lives in awe, Dis benefits if we forget, or not contemme his laive.

Thunder and

8 That daily hateth Anne, and loveth bertue well, And is the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israell, That doth displeasure take, when we his lawes offend, And yet amids his heavie wrath, his mercie doth extend.

9 This is that Load of holls, the father of vs all, The maker of what ere was made, my God on whom A call: Which for the love of man, sent downs his onely some, Begot of him before the world were any whit begun.
